FOCAL AWARD WINNER ME, FRIDA

By Carol Raby, 2011 FOCAL Award Committee Chair

It is exciting to announce this year's FOCAL Award winner! Me, Frida, written by Amy Novesky and illustrated by David Diaz, captured our hearts. The book reads with a wonderful rhythm about a very special time in Frida Kahlo's life when she and Diego Rivera visited San Francisco, during the early 1930's. While Diego is preoccupied with painting a mural, Frida timidly explores the city of San Francisco. She not only uncovers the charm of the city, but also discovers herself and her unmistakable painting style during this time.

The book is stunningly illustrated by the very talented David Diaz. His illustrations beautifully interpret the story and add details about Frida. In fact, it was the union of words and pictures that caught the committee's attention at first. The city of San Francisco plays an important role in the story and really comes to life for the reader the way it is described and painted.

"To receive an award like this is incredibly validating and rewarding." These are the gracious words of author Amy Novesky who will attend the FOCAL Awards Presentation on January 28th, 2012. Amy has taken a small detail from the life of Frida Kahlo and created a beautiful narrative in which the city of San Francisco is prominent. She has many interesting things to share with us about what drew her to write about Frida Kahlo in San Francisco.

Although it was difficult to choose just one book out of the finalists our committee selected, it was easy to agree that Me, Frida meets the FOCAL Award criteria:

"a creative work which enriches a child's appreciation for and knowledge of California, either fiction or nonfiction, to be judged on literary and/or artistic merit, interest and readability."

It is an honor and a pleasure to be the chairperson of the 2011 FOCAL Award Committee. I thoroughly enjoyed reading great books and having lively discussions with my esteemed colleagues on the committee. We all hope to see you at the luncheon in January.

HIGHLIGHTS: CHILDREN'S LITERATURE, SUMMER 2011

SUMMER READING CLUB: A total of 768 signed up, of which over 200 were ages 0-4. This was the first time that this age group received its own category.

PROGRAMS:

Program attendance was very good as well. Between June and August, staff did 12 preschool storytimes, with 769 attending, an average of about 60 people per storytime.

During the same period, the librarians did 22 Family Programs, which includes 9 Thursday story and craft hours. Total attendance was 1420.

VISITORS: There were many more visiting groups and day camps than usual. For June-August, there were 80 groups and classes with a total of 1795.

MONDAY HOURS RESTORED

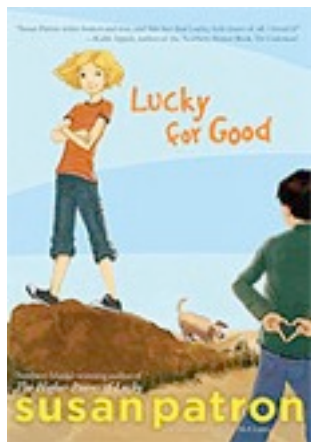

On Monday, July 18th, there was a Press Conference at Central Library to publicize the restoration of Monday service hours throughout the system. This was the first step in the restoration of services that the voters provided through the passage of Measure L.

After the press conference ended, and the doors opened to the public, Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa read to a group of children from the Noble Elementary School in the Valley. There was one class of twenty-five 3rd and 4th graders assembled in the KLOS Story Theatre.

Staff had selected The Tale of Rabbit and Coyote, by Tony Johnston, illustrated by Tomie dePaola, LAPL Call Number x 398 J73-1. [G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1994]

The children were entranced by the reading of this charming story. The Mayor was undoubtedly gratified by their attentive response to his reading.

DUES RESTRUCTURING 2012

As we all know, the cost of living keeps going up every year, and so do FOCAL'S expenditures.

At our last meeting, the FOCAL Board looked at our budget and our bank accounts, and decided that we need to raise the dues.

Studying the dues of other library Friends' Groups, we realized that ours are very, very low compared with other local groups. The new dues are posted on the back page: $10 becomes $20, $25 becomes $30, and $50 becomes $60. This will begin in January 2012.

As always, thanks for your membership !!!!
